Grand Jury Approves Court House Work

Bids Sought For Improvements To Elba Court House

Improvements and renovation of the Coffee Court House in Elba moved a step closer last week when the Board of County Commissioners adopted a motion to ask for bids on plans for the work.

The motion directed that two sets of bids be asked: one to include both labor and materials, and the other for labor with the county furnishing the materials. Commissioners Whitman and Bowden were designated a purchasing committee.

The Board also authorized the purchase of a tear gas gun for $397.00 for use by Sheriff H. E. Tillman.

Present were Judge J. O. English and Commissioners Whitman, Bowden, Brown and Tindol.

Union Election Is Called At Dorsey

A National Labor Relations Board election has been called for Thursday, next week, for Dorsey Trailers employees to decide if they want representation by the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, Local 1001, which is now in the process of organizing the employees.

George Collier, Jr., Dorsey Trailers president, and T. K. Dorsey, executive vice president, answered an invitation from the Elba Chamber of Commerce to give an explanation of recent events at Dorsey to a gathering of Elba business and professional people at the Elba High school auditorium Thursday last week.

"As merchants and citizens who play a major role in the economy of the area in which you live and conduct your business, you are entitled to the facts and figures which will enable you to judge for yourself as to what is true and what is rumor," Mr. Collier told the gathering.

"According to stories that reached me, some mighty fantastic tales have been told by individuals who obviously did not know what they were talking about," Mr. Collier recalled the sale of Dorsey Trailers a year and a half ago with the explanation that "The decision to sell Dorsey Trailers was made to protect the interests of Dorsey employees so that if anything happened to the principal owners, the plant would not be taken up by inheritance taxes and could continue to operate. Although Dorsey Trailers could have been sold for much more money than the present owners paid for the company, Dorsey management refused to sell at any price unless certain terms were met."

"Must Remain In Elba
"Among the terms was the stipulation that Dorsey Trailers would remain in Elba to provide jobs for the people in this area," he emphasized.

"Within six months after Dorsey Trailers was sold, the new ownership provided capital for expansion. We were able to build much-needed warehousing and storage areas, to buy new tools and equipment, and we were provided with capital with which to finance the sale of trailers bought from us on credit."

"Dorsey Trailers personnel increased from 703 to 978 within less than a year after the company was sold, not with outside personnel, but with people who live in our communities."

Revealing the past several years, Mr. Collier said that employees at Dorsey Trailers increased from 476 in 1955 to almost 1,000 in 1959, with wages and profit sharing paid to employees during those years as follows:

1955 — $1,900,651.15; 1956 — $2,181,546.85; 1957 — $2,891,555.46; 1958 — $2,640,009.25; 1959 — $3,108,556.61.

January through June, 1959, total paid in wages and profit sharing from 1955 through June, 1959 — $14,922,935.

T. K. Dorsey told the gathering that approximately 630 Dorsey employees are eligible to vote in the Labor Election next week and that the outcome will be decided by a majority of those who vote.

Competitors Affected
Mr. Collier also said: "What the rumor mongers did not mention is that a number of our competitors have been affected to a far greater extent by the business slump that has hit the entire nation than we have at Dorsey Trailers. We are still carrying over 600 people on our payrolls in spite of the slump."

Referring to rumors that Dorsey has been turning over orders to competitors, he said: "Nothing could be further from the truth."

Recalling a former attempt to organize employees of Dorsey Trailers, Mr. Collier said: "In 1946, when Dorsey employees went out on strike, the plant was closed for seven weeks. It so happened that Christmas fell during that 7-week period. Seven weeks without pay! Seven weeks of hardship for the employees, their wives and their children. To our knowledge, the union did not pay one penny to the employees while they were on strike."

"What did those employees gain?"

"Nothing! And in the end the union deserted them completely."

"Dorsey employees enjoy benefits that are not available to employees of most other companies," he said, and recited them as follows: free hospitalization insurance, free life insurance, one-half the company's manufacturing profits, a retirement fund.

"Guiding Light"
J. L. Bryant, president of the organization which serves 8,700 consumers in Covington, Coffee and Crenshaw counties, declared that the REA has been the "guiding light" which has helped locally-owned electric cooperatives remove the mantle of darkness from farm homes.

He termed progress made by Covington Electric during the past 16 years as "truly outstanding," and declared that "electricity for rural people has been good for all segments of our economy."

General Mgr. Basil Thompson, in his annual report to the members, said that Covington Electric has invested $3.3 million in building a "top-notch" power system to provide service to its consumers.

Thompson reported that Covington Electric has repaid almost $1.5 million on its REA loans, including $1.1 million repaid on principal, and almost $4 million paid in interest. Annual loan repayment requirements now are in excess of $120,000, he stated.

Predicts Growth
Calling attention to the fact that members of the Cooperative have purchased "over $10 million worth of appliances and electrical equipment," Thompson stated that 1,590 power sales were in excess of $6,000,000 KWH. He predicted that by 1970, Covington Electric members would be using well over 100,000,000 KWH of electricity annually.

Thompson also reported that Covington Electric had paid some $300,000 in taxes over the past 16 years, and declared that 1959 marked the first year in which annual revenues had exceeded $1 million.

Lucas Featured
Featured speaker at the meeting was E. J. "Lucky" Lucas, general sales manager of Dorsey Trailers, of Elba. In a crowd-pleasing talk generously spiced with humor, Lucas pointed up the need for cooperation to promote growth in all phases of community, business and civic life, and called attention to progress made in recent years in the South in helping achieve a better balance between agriculture and industry.

Allen Re-Elected To Board of Trustees Of Electric Co-op.

Andalusia — More than 3,000 persons, a record turnout, were on hand for the 1959 annual members meeting of the Covington Electric Cooperative at the Andalusia Municipal Stadium Saturday night, Aug. 13.

Co-op officials reported that attendance at the 1959 meeting exceeded by several hundred the turnout for any prior annual meeting.

Observe Anniversary
A special program for the 1960 meeting, featuring observance of the 25th anniversary of the founding of the Rural Electrification Administration (REA), and the 16th "birth-day" of Covington Electric Cooperative, was highlighted by:

Reports from Co-op officials depicting "outstanding growth" over the past 16 years; a humorous address by a top Southeast Industrial official, entertainment by the Florida Boys Quartet, of Pensacola, Fla., and the awarding of 30 electrical appliances as attendance prizes.

Co-op members re-elected Ira Allen, New Brockton, Rt. 2, to a three-year term on the Board of Trustees. Only one place on the Board was to be filled this year.

County Commissioners Commended For Improvement Plans

Steps taken by the Coffee County Board of Commissioners to renovate the Elba Court House were commended by Circuit Court Grand Jury in a presentation to Judge Eris F. Paul Monday, this week.

The Grand Jury, of which D. M. English, Elba business man, was foreman, commended the county governing board and "endorsed their proposed improvements. Upon an inspection of the Court House we can well see where these improvements are badly needed," the presentment said.

Incumbents are taking their appeals for re-election on the basis of their records while a variety of proposals have been made by new candidates.

Both incumbents and opponents have been "mending their fences" with many promising to make their programs known in political announcements next week.

I WOULD CONSIDER

As one who was, for many years, a labor union member, and who has also sat on the management side of the bargaining table during union contract negotiations, I find myself considering how I would vote in the Labor Board election next week at Dorsey Trailers.

If I could vote I would look beyond promises of a bigger pay envelope. I would consider what is best for me, naturally, but no man is an island unto himself. I would consider what is best for Dorsey Trailers because if Dorsey suffers a setback then I would also suffer a setback. I would consider what is best for Elba because my welfare is part of community welfare.

If I could vote I would ask what the union could get for me that I do not already have. The amount that Dorsey can pay in wages is determined by the amount of money Dorsey receives in sales. Therefore, if I demand more wages than Dorsey can pay then Dorsey must shut down and I am paid nothing. I would consider the fate of employees at Brown Trailer Co. who have been on strike almost a month during which employees have been without any pay.

I would consider the kindly interest the Dorsey family showed in my welfare when the plant was sold little more than a year ago. The plant could have been sold far more except for the fact that the family insisted the contract before the plant could not be moved from Elba. That is an unusual attitude in this day when so many business people consider only the almighty dollar.

I would consider the fact that I have an insurance policy with premiums paid by the company, that when I am old and want to retire that I can retire on retirement pay from Dorsey Trailers, that if I become sick or disabled that I have Dorsey hospitalization benefits, and, above all, that I can know that half of all Dorsey profits come back to me and fellow employees in profit-sharing checks. If the union insists upon taking the other half as well, then Dorsey will shut down and I will have nothing.

I would consider that "it can happen here." I would remember Gadsden, Ala. In the days of my youth in Alabama, I regarded Gadsden as a big city. A strike was called a few years ago at the biggest industry in Gadsden. The plant shut down and the equipment was moved away. Employees totaling 2,500 lost their jobs. Since the average family is about four people, this meant that over 10,000 people moved away from Gadsden. Between 1950 and 1960, Gadsden dropped from fourth largest city in Alabama to sixth largest.

These are the things I would consider before I cast my ballot.

Respectfully Yours,
Thorne Lane

—SOIL NEWS—

By T. C. Self and Billy Taylor

"Enriching Coffee County Soil Conservation District" is the working of the new green and white signs being placed along the major highways entering Coffee county. This should serve as a constant reminder of the great responsibility we have to conserve all of our natural resources.

Smaller district signs with the cooperators name are now being distributed throughout the county.

Mr. J. A. Boutwell had severe infestation of no-de-rash growth in his pond during the early summer. Heavy application of fertilizer failed to clear the water sufficiently to shade this growth. When it appeared that the pond was not going to respond to these treatments, fertilization was stopped for a period of a few weeks. This growth has now disappeared and fertilizer is again being applied at normal rates.

Pond and fertilization at recommended rates is being carried out by the following:

Shirley Carpenter, Fullerton, S. O. Huxey, D. D. Littleton, Will Vaughn, W. H. Taylor, Fred Meacham, Ho-y. Boutwell and M. S. Libby Kimbrough.
